SPECIAL PROGRAM FOR YOUNGSTERS ALL NEXT WEEK

Win-My-Chum Week To Be Celebrated
By Epworth League of Third Street
Church Next Week—Special Programs.

Next week, November 12th to November 19th, will be Win-My-Chum week with the Epworth Leagues of Methodism. This special week set aside for the specific purpose of winning chums to the Christian life and membership in the league and church has been growing in popularity since its inception in 1913. The league of the Third street church of this city has observed this week of young people's service for several years. Large crowds and splendid interest has marked every campaign. This year the league cabinet has asked their pastor, Rev. W. S. Peters, to speak each evening instead of having a different speaker at each service. The Sunday services will begin at 6:15 p. m. and the week night services at 7:15. Services will be of one hour length and will be made as attractive and helpful as possible with the talent at hand. The list of subjects for the week are as follows:

Sunday, Nov. 12—"What Christ Means to Me."

Monday, Nov. 13—"Jesus and the Problems of Young People."

Tuesday, Nov. 14—"Jesus and the Friendships of Young People."

Wednesday, Nov. 15—"Jesus and the Pleasures of Young People."

Thursday, Nov. 16—"Jesus and the Ambitions of Young People."

Friday, Nov. 17—"Jesus and the Life Plans of Young People."

Sunday, Nov. 19—"Partnership with Christ."

The pastor and leaguers ask and earnestly request that all members of the league and church set aside all other engagements for this one week, attend every service; bring your friends and chums; and do all within their power to make the week count.

ROWDYISM TO BE STOPPED AT WASHINGTON THEATER

Theater Management Issues Statement and Warning that Disorder in House Must Be Stopped at Once.

The patrons of the Washington Theater will be glad to know that the management of that theater has taken a firm stand to break up the disorder which has been a source of much annoyance. The management of the theater makes this announcement and warning:

The management of the Washington Theater Company gives notice that rowdyism must cease during the performances at the Opera House. Hereafter there will be a special officer on duty, and anyone detected in any way disorderly, will be ejected from the house and refused admission thereafter, in addition a warrant will be sworn out before the police court, where they will be lawfully dealt with.

WILLIAM H. COX, President.

TAKES DEMURRER UNDER ADVISEMENT.

County Judge H. P. Purnell spent all of Monday hearing arguments on a demurrrer in the attempt of heirs of the late Mrs. Kate Wallingford to have the Bank of Maysville, executor of her will, removed. The bank's attorneys filed a demurrrer to the plaintiff's petition in which they contend that the court cannot remove them as executor on the grounds set out in the plaintiff's petition. Judge Purnell, after hearing extensive argument, took the case under advisement.

ORANGEBURG FARM SOLD.

Colonel Thomas L. Ewan, local real estate dealer, Monday sold the farm of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Thompson in the Orangeburg neighborhood, consisting of 107 acres and splendid improvements to Mr. D. A. Hall. The consideration is private, but it is understood that there was considerable involved in the transaction.

HUNTING DON'T'S ISSUED BY STATE GAME COMMISSION

Season For Rabbits and Quail Opens on November 15th—Executive Agent of State Issues Warning.

Dr. R. S. Tuttle, executive agent of the State Game and Fish Commission has issued these don't's for hunters for their consideration before the opening of the hunting season for rabbits and quail:

Don't hunt off your own land without license.

Don't shoot without this year's hunting license.

Don't shoot doves before September 1st nor after December 15th.

Don't kill more than fifteen doves in one day.

Don't shoot quail before November 15th nor after January 1st.

Don't kill more than twelve quail in one day.

Don't shoot squirrel before July 1st nor after December 15th.

Don't kill woodcock before November 15th nor after January 1st.

Don't kill more than six woodcock in one day.

Don't kill wild turkeys, imported pheasants or Hungarian partridges before November 15th, 1924.

Don't shoot, buy or sell rabbits before November 15th nor after January 1st.

Don't set steel traps before November 15th nor after January 1st.

Don't have furs bearing animals in your possession before October 1st nor after February 15th.

Don't kill any wood duck, elder duck, or swan at any time.

Don't kill, trap nor have in your possession at any time any song or insectivorous birds.

Don't wait until November 15th to buy your hunting license. Do it now.

Don't kill all the quail in a covey—leave some for seed.

Don't fail to feed the birds during the winter. Don't fail to notice your local warden or this department of those who violate the law.

A fellow who hunts without a license is a cheater—see that he obeys the law.

YOUNG MORGAN GETS "ABOUT $3,500.00"

Sum Given Youth Injured on Island Queen Is Said to Have Been About $3,500 Besides Hospital Fees.

Tuesday's Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune says:

An award of about $3,500 was made by the Coney Island Company to Willib Morgan of the Manchester Boys' Band, it was announced yesterday, as settlement for injuries received by him when the deck of the Island Queen collapsed on April 27. The boat was loaded with persons going to the Grand Day celebration at Pt. Pleasant, Ohio, at the time of the accident.

The boy, whose back was broken in the crash, now is practically as well as ever, according to Floyd Williams, attorney, and is now attending school. Mr. Williams said that Dr. Robert Coffield, the boy's physician, has pronounced the case a complete recovery. A settlement was delayed until this time in order to determine what extent the boy's injuries would be permanent.

Mr. Williams refused to say what the exact amount of the award was. It was learned from other sources, however, that it was about $3,500.

MRS. GILMORE GOES SOUTH.

Mrs. T. G. Gilmore, 215 East High street, who suffered a broken hip, a broken arm and other injuries when she was run over on the Paris pike last June by an automobile driven by Georgetown people, accompanied by Mr. Gilmore and her trained nurse, Miss Sue Simpson, left Lexington Sunday evening for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberts, of Harriman, Tenn.

Mrs. Gilmore is still in a serious condition following the accident and has gone to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roberts, on advice of her physicians. She suffered a nervous breakdown.

Mrs. Gilmore was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Shannon, 213 East High street, her neighbors, when the accident occurred.—Lexington Leader.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

COMPETENT COAL COMMISSION

The coal commission authorized by Congress and appointed by President Harding has organized and mapped out its plan of procedure. Informal conferences will be first held with representatives of the mine owners and miners, and then the task will be begun of collecting all possible information concerning the industry. The object of the commission will be to suggest practical means "to insure a constant supply of this most necessary commodity at as reasonable prices as are consistent with fair wages and profits to those engaged in the industry."

The high character of the men selected by Mr. Harding for the commission's personnel is an assurance to the country that everything humanly possible will be done to relieve the people from further annoyances incident to coal strikes. If the expected results follow from the commission's activities, it will be an achievement to the credit of the Republican administration that will have a direct appeal to every householder in the country.

The American people, like Secretary Hughes, is too wise to be stirred by a flood of foreign propaganda urging us to carry on war in Asia.—Coston Transcript.

Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, is greatly worried about the "robber tariff" which required some of his foreign importer friends to dig up some extra money for the U. S. Treasury.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

Indorsement of the work of the Federal board for hospitalization under the chairmanship of Gen. Sawyer and of the conduct of the veterans' bureau under direction of Col. Forbes by the Disabled American Vets of the World War of the District of Columbia is to be listed as testimony to the efficiency with which these agencies are operating by witnesses who know. The disabled veterans are chiefly concerned in the conduct of the two agencies mentioned and are in position to judge them on their merits.

This indorsement should carry weight with all fair-minded elements of the nation. Those who know whereof they speak testify that the board and the bureau are effectively serving the purposes for which they were created and that their operations are being conducted in a manner that deserve confidence in the ability and intent of the directing heads to carry through the constructive programs now in hand. And such testimony warrants the public in sharing such confidence.—Washington Post.

AN IMPORTANT DIFFERENCE

Democratic editors who draw a parallel between the Wilson letter of 1918 and the Harding letter of 1922, bearing upon the Congressional elections, fail to note two important differences. Just a few weeks before issuing his letter, President Wilson asked that "politics be adjourned," and the Republicans fell in with the request. Then on the eve of election, Wilson issued his call for election of a Democratic Congress. President Harding has made no suggestion that politics be adjourned. Again, Wilson asked for the election of a Democratic Congress not on the record of that Congress but as an expression of confidence in him. Harding did not try to make himself an issue to any extent. He commended the work of Congress and indicated his opinion that the record of the Republican Congress justifies a vote of approval. This is a Congressional and not a Presidential campaign. Harding has observed the proprieties, which Wilson violated.

EVERYBODY VOTE

To vote is the most important duty of the citizen. It is the only effective act by which the citizen exercises his power as an integral part of a self-governing people. So far as national affairs are concerned, the issue is fairly clean—whether the people of the country prefer to continue Republican control of Congress or wish to return to Democratic policies. The issues have been very thoroughly discussed on the stump and in the press. The Democratic regime is not so far away but that its record can be fairly well remembered. The Republicans have had only 20 months of full control of the affairs of the Government and have not yet had time to complete their program, but the record is extensive enough to enable the average voter to compare it with the record of the previous Democratic administration. The question is whether the country wants to go back to Democratic rule. "Be careful how you vote."

REPUBLICANS BROUGHT REVIVAL

In 1920 McAdoo blamed the Democratic Federal Reserve Board for deflation, and no one blames President Harding. The record shows that the deflation program started in 1919 and was nearly over before Harding was inaugurated. The revival started as soon as the Republican administration got its policies working.

TRYING TO TEACH U. S.

Oxford University students are touring the country debating with various America neologisms the question whether the United States should enter the league of nations. Oxford assumes the affirmative. It needs some such stimulation to keep the subject alive.

Soil washing and the leaching away of plant food on Hart county farms during the coming winter is expected to be considerably reduced as a result of the interest which farmers in that section of the state have taken in the value of cover crops for protecting their fields. County Agent L. H. Woodhouse says.

A wonderful record for regularity in church attendance is that of Miss Ella L. Stetson, of Quincy, Mass., who in half a century has been absent from

COMMENT

Now that the postoffice appointment has been settled and the Congressional race is over today, we can turn our attention to our Christmas shopping.

Wilhelm is still the shrewd. He has made enough money out of the sale of his memoirs to American newspapers that when the dollars are exchanged into Marks at the present rate of exchange he will have to build an addition to Doorn castle to hold his funds.

Wilhelm is still the shrewd. He has made enough money out of the sale of his memoirs to American newspapers that when the dollars are exchanged into Marks at the present rate of exchange he will have to build an addition to Doorn castle to hold his funds.

Although not official, the Lexington Leader says they have it on good authority that the pool will distribute a payment to the tobacco growers before Christmas. This is indeed good news to all. It was what was expected and there would have been many disappointed if there was not a distribution of cash before the big holiday season.

While there are some few who are interested in the outcome of today's election in Kentucky, there are more Kentuckians interested in the battle in Ohio today than there are interested in the fight in our own state. All that politicians can talk about is: "What do you think about Ohio?"

Remember the day when "Men Only" always drew a crowd? Well, the time has come when "Women Only" draws bigger crowds. The management of the Washington theater had to call for extra help Monday afternoon to handle the big crowd attracted by the advertisement, "Women Only." We are all just a little anxious to know what's going on when such signs are posted and the women show they are just as bad about it as the men ever were.

The selection of Mrs. Zoraya Cochran as postmistress of Maryville should prove a popular appointment. The new postmistress is efficient and all who know her know that matters about the post office will be handled carefully, thoroughly and speedily. The selection is a splendid compliment to the widow of a great Republican who gave liberally of time, talent and money to the Republicanism of Kentucky without private reward.

The automobile is rapidly taking the place of the old horse and buggy and the passing of the Parker & Riley Livery barn takes out of Maryville about the last of the old-time livery stations, which only a few years ago were the busiest spots in town on Saturdays and court days when the country people came in for the day. Now they drive in after dinner in their big touring car and park it most any place.

"Billy" Sunday is touching them up at Dayton, Ohio. Some people might not like the Rev. Billy's style but he certainly is doing considerable good in this old world and it's sad that we do not have more like him scattered all over the globe. Things might be some better.

Maryville is one of the most fortunate towns in the country in that there are so few automobile accidents. With a great crowd at Second and Market streets yesterday bulging out into the streets and with scores of automobiles flitting by and turning at every angle, it looked like there would certainly be a dozen accidents but we got through the day without a scratch.

Close to 75 Fayette county poultry flocks will be entered in the winter egg laying project to be carried out in the state during the coming five months by the extension division of the College of Agriculture, according to County Agent W. R. Gabbert. Eight breeds of farm poultry will be represented by the Fayette county entries. Owners of the flocks will give their hens good feed and care to show other farmers how hens can be made to lay more eggs in the winter.

It was a sign of care and attention to detail when Universal secured three former stars to support one of its stars in a photoplay. Such is the situation in "Tracked to Earth," a Universal special attraction coming to the Pastime Theater Tuesday.

Frank Mayo is the star of the production, which is based on a Saturday Evening post story by William J. Neidig. William Worthington, the director of Mayo's recent "Dr. Jim," is responsible for the direction.

Virginia Valli, the leading woman, who starred in musical comedies and was a Ziegfeld Follies beauty in her career before entering motion pictures. She has an odd type of beauty, and her acting and the way she photographed in "Tracked to Earth" so pleased Universal executives that she was immediately re-engaged for the filming of "The Storm," a Universal-Jewell super-production starring House Peters.

Buck Connors used to be known as one of the champion horse riders of the world and one of the best known cowboys that ever rode in Western roles. He was starred in motion pictures for a long period.

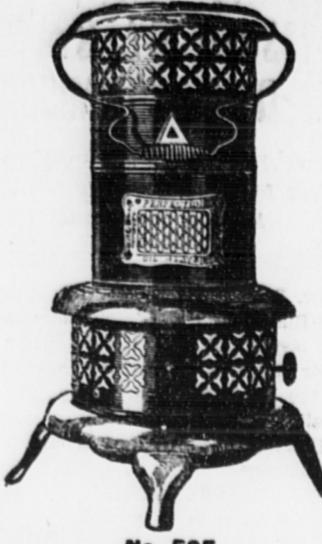

Harold Goodwin made such a good actor of himself in two or three years, principally in Universal pictures, that he was signed to star by Fox. Universal secured him for this production just as it secured Miss Valli and Buck Connors—because "Tracked to Earth" was going to be made on a careful scale that would make it worth any star's time to be "just a member of the cast."

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanie Price

New York—It was a sad day for the pawn brokers when the wedding band became less seriously treated, or less sentimentally, or something equally destructive of the old-time attitude toward the wedding ring. It was still a sadder day for the people who might want to pawn those wedding rings. You can't get more than half the full value, or maybe a little more, according to the brokers. Because women don't redeem them as they used to. The pawn broker used to be safe in lending the extra amount because he knew that come what might, no woman would give up that symbol of matrimony. Now they let it go as easily as they do last year's earnings—so the accusation goes. And the pawn-brokers who didn't realize the change in customs find themselves with a lot of unredeemed gold bands on their hands which cannot be sold for the amount they lent on them. Maybe it's a sign of changed feelings about matrimony.

—NY—
They are interesting—the little acts of co-operation and brotherhood one comes across, in a crowded city where people are strangers to each other. Each noon a group books in the sun-shine on the south side of the City Hall. Those who come with newspapers pass them on to the others when they have finished their sunning. Cans for waster matter are placed around the plaza, but the regulars never dispose of their papers there. Instead, they poke them into the square laticed pases of the old-fashioned lamp posts which guard the main entrance of the Mayor's office. Here they are safe from the energetic park sweepers and are kept clean for the next readers.

—NY—
I do not know why it should be important to chronicle the fact of anyone deciding to work for a living, but great fuss is made hereabouts when anyone of the social set—especially a woman—goes "into trade." Mrs. William A. Hamilton is the latest. She is a cousin of the late Mrs. George Gould, and is setting up as an interior decorator. When Mrs. Gould died she left a trust fund for Mrs. Hamilton.

Tombs the other night because of that. He says he is nephew of Maharajah Murudahan and supreme representative of Lord Ganardah the universal power of love. He attempted to extend some of the love in the direction of Miss Emilie J. Dieterich, who evidently is too practical to appreciate it. As New York representative of a firm of Chicago architects, Miss Dieterich is a capable and successful business woman, and she insists she has no time to spend discussing the theory of universal love, so she had its representative arrested because he would not stop telephoning her about it.

There are many women who first used our Vegetable Compound during their girlhood days. They found it a valuable aid during trying periods. In later years they use it whenever they feel those annoying symptoms which women often have.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is prepared carefully from the best quality of medicinal plants, whose properties are especially adapted to correct the troubles women have.

I have heard of women giving up fortunes conditioned upon their not marrying, but I never before knew of a girl who forewent the money rather than marry. That's what Miss Ruth Spanier, of Long Island, is doing. She has received a bequest from her uncle in Los Angeles, of $25,000, upon the condition that she marry. But Miss Spanier is running a bakery with her mother and she says she much prefers that to marriage and doesn't care about money, anyhow.

In order to work out some of the practical details of beef cattle feeding, eight Oldham county farmers will cooperate with County Agent Gordon B. Vance and the College of Agriculture at Lexington in conducting feeding tests on their farms this winter. Plans are being made to have a tour of the farms this winter so that other farmers in the county can get pointers on their cattle feeding work.

CARLISLE SLEUTH IS ARRESTED IN ATTEMPTED DELIVERY

Carlisle Man Alleged To Have Assisted In the Attempt of Hardman Schumaker to Escape Winchester Jail.

Winchester, Ky., Nov. 6.—A warrant was issued here this morning for O. M. Morgan, of Carlisle, free lance detective, charging him with complicity in the discovered plot for escape of Scobee Hardman, held without bond in the killing of Leon Renaker, and John Schumaker, under a sentence of life imprisonment for slaying his father.

The warrant was signed by Jailer Carroll Arbill, and charged Morgan with "aiding, abetting, assisting and facilitating the escape of Scobee Hardman and John Schumaker from the Clark county jail, which escape was not effected" and with taking "a key or tools and appliances" into the jail to prisoners.

Morgan, who is said to have been employed as an investigator for Hardman shortly after his arrest August 10, has not been seen in Winchester since the escape plot was discovered, but officers are said to have had him under surveillance.

The warrants, based on information given at a court of inquiry by John Schumaker and other inmates of the jail. No warrant will be issued immediately for the young woman who is alleged to have been implicated in the plot by the discovery of keys to the jail in her home, officials said.

Schumaker testified that he saw Morgan go into Hardman's cell with a box of cigars. After his departure Hardman took from beneath a layer of cigars a key with he concealed in his mattress. Schumaker said. This key, described as a big brass key giving access to the jailer's office and the street, has never been found, although the jailer discovered keys unlocking inside doors of the jail in a cell and also found traces of the outside lock. Jailer Arbill, who stated that he saw Morgan take the box up to the cell and come out without it, believes that the key was thrown from the window or taken by string up to the women's quarters on the third floor, as such a means of communication is known to have been used.

Schumaker told officers that only he and Hardman were to benefit from the escape plot, which he said was to take them to France, with Hardman paying all expenses. Jim Skinner, another inmate, stated that Hardman offered him $15 to get him a key.

ONE KILLED IN CINCINNATI RAILROAD YARD WRECK.

One man was killed, three injured and about 40 passengers thrown from their seats and shaken up when the Morrow—Cincinnati accommodation train crashed into the rear of the Cincinnati-Richmond accommodation on a siding in the Pennsylvania R. R. Yards, Third and Martin streets, Tuesday morning at Cincinnati.

A more serious accident was averted by the fact that coaches on both trains were made of steel. If the coaches had been made of wood at least two of them would have been telescoped, railroad men said.

Frank E. McGee, 60, yardmaster, of 3745 Kenilworth place, was thrown from the baggage car of the Richmond train by the force of the impact. His head struck an iron rail. He received a skull fracture, and was unconscious when rushed to Good Samaritan Hospital in a police patrol. He died an hour later.

No interest whatever was shown in the Congressional election held Tuesday and politicians believe that the returns from the voting will show the smallest vote cast in both parties in Mason county for years.
